

5 Best Wine Stores in NYC

Appellation Wine & Spirits

Appellation takes difference seriously. As the website explains, the store focuses “on producers who depart from the convention of large scale production and make organic, biodynamic, or natural wines. Or, to put it succinctly, we like good wine and we like wine that we believe is good for you.” The West Chelsea store might be small, but the staff is knowledgeable, friendly, and never, ever preachy or pushy. The vibe is more about expanding your mind (and palate), not about getting you to open your wallet.
